

Dear Parents,

I have been in contact with the Six Flags Read to Succeed Organizers. In the past, tickets were given to the coordinators and they were passed on to teachers to be handed out in the classroom or to parents. Six Flags is aware that that can not be the case this year for most schools. This year, the tickets will be accessible to parents through the same parent portal where you logged your child's minutes and books.

Here is the response from Six Flags to me about tickets:

Hi Angela,

In May, once the tickets distribute, teachers can deliver the ticket via email to the parents who had children added manually. Parents who logged their children online via the parent portal will be able to download the ticket from there.

Our parks are still closed and until we have a schedule for re-opening we can't say when the tickets will be valid. Our plan at this point though is to make sure that whenever we do open, you will still have plenty of time to use the tickets. As we get closer we will announce dates. We'll also at that time be making available the special discount deals and rewards to the families of students who read.

Any parents who gave me their child's information to log for them, I will get your ticket emailed to you. Everyone who signed up themselves will be able to download your ticket. There is a help desk for contacting Six Flags directly if there is an issue with your ticket.

Thanks so much for the great participation. I hope we have as many, if not more, tickets going out next year.

Angela Sehstedt:-)
