What to do if...

You had first-hand contact with someone who tested positive and you are symptom free (and you didn't take a test).	Stay home 14 days if you can socially distance from that person. Stay home 24 days if you are not able to socially distance.
You had first-hand contact with someone who tested positive, you got tested and it came back negative.
Your child tests positive for Covid.	Stay home a minimum of 10 days if your symptoms have reduced. You will need documentation from your medical provider that you are cleared to return to school.
A parent living with the student was exposed to someone who was positive for Covid.	Watch for symptoms in your child. Your child may still continue coming to school in person.

*Please note that these guidelines are based off of the CDC and what the Hamilton County Health Department has determined. We are not the final say though, please consult with your medical provider or the Health Department for further information.
